Exceptional Space in Kitsilano

The property located on the 2700 block of W 4th Ave near MacDonald St intersection in Vancouver, BC is a Class A mixed-use retail and residential building constructed in 1995. It offers a ground-level retail condominium unit designated for commercial use, situated in a dense urban corridor. The C-2 zoning allows for multiple uses, and the location provides easy access via public transit with station stops in walking distance. The site is served by arterial roads connecting to downtown Vancouver and Vancouver International Airport.

An excellent owner-operator space to practice cosmetics, physio, aesthetics, dental services, beauty bar, or any business that requires 2 well-appointed treatment rooms with a sink and cabinets already installed. This unit also has a reception and waiting area and a share bathroom.
