370 English Trail is located in Venus, TX within the southern DFW industrial corridor, an area that continues to attract industrial users seeking affordability, functional space, and larger land components. Demand for mid-size warehouses remains steady, supported by access to Highway 67 and I-35 and limited supply of comparable inventory in nearby markets like Midlothian and Mansfield. Positioned outside city limits, the property offers added operational flexibility for owner-users and specialized industrial users that may face restrictions in more heavily regulated municipalities.
