LOCATION

The Colorado Technology Center (CTC) is Louisville's largest commercial and industrial park at over 400 acres. Many of the buildings in CTC specialize in blending all facets of a business under one roof, including the front office, manufacturing and warehousing. Several of the area's most innovative companies benefit from locating all their components right next to each other. One drive through and you'll notice that great companies doing great work are successful in the CTC. To-date approximately 5M square feet have been developed at CTC; this amount is expected to reach 5.8M square feet at full build-out.

Join Fedex, Coherent Technologies, Sierra Space, AMP, Vaisala, and many others, and take your place among some of the most innovative and inspiring companies in the nation.
