OVERVIEW

Cedar Park is one of the fastest-growing and most affluent communities in the Austin metropolitan area, strategically located in Williamson County along the US-183 corridor. Home to more than 86,000 residents, the city offers a highly educated workforce, excellent schools, and a business-friendly environment that continues to attract employers, retailers, and healthcare providers. Its strong demographics, high household incomes, and ongoing infrastructure investments make Cedar Park one of the region's premier destinations for commercial development.

Economy

Cedar Park benefits from a diverse and resilient economy supported by technology, healthcare, professional services, advanced manufacturing, and retail. Major employers throughout Williamson County—including Dell Technologies, Apple, Samsung, Baylor Scott & White, Cedar Park Regional Medical Center, and numerous corporate offices—continue to drive employment growth and consumer spending. Continued residential development and infrastructure improvements are creating sustained demand for neighborhood retail, dining, medical, and service-oriented businesses.

Real Estate

Cedar Park's commercial real estate market remains one of the strongest in the Austin metro area, driven by rapid population growth, rising household incomes, and continued business expansion. The Bell Boulevard redevelopment corridor is transforming into a vibrant mixed-use destination featuring retail, restaurants, office, medical, hospitality, and entertainment uses. High traffic volumes, strong daytime population, and proximity to major regional retailers such as Costco, H-E-B, Whole Foods, Nebraska Furniture Mart, and the Bell District redevelopment make this corridor an exceptional location for businesses seeking long-term growth and visibility.

Information About Brokerage Services

Texas law requires all real estate license holders to give the following information about brokerage services to prospective buyers, tenants, sellers and landlords.

TYPES OF REAL ESTATE LICENSE HOLDERS:

- A BROKER is responsible for all brokerage activities, including acts performed by sales agents sponsored by the broker.
- A SALES AGENT must be sponsored by a broker and works with clients on behalf of the broker.

A BROKER'S MINIMUM DUTIES REQUIRED BY LAW (A client is the person or party that the broker represents):

- Put the interests of the Client above others including the broker's own interests.
- Inform the client of any material information about the property or transaction received by the broker;
- Answer the client's questions and present any offer to or counter-offer from the client. and
- Treat all parties to a real estate transaction honestly and fairly.

A LICENSE HOLDER CAN REPRESENT A PARTY IN A REAL ESTATE TRANSACTION:

AS AGENT FOR OWNER (SELLER/LANDLORD): The broker becomes the property owner's agent through an agreement with the owner, usually in a written listing to sell or property management agreement. An owner's agent must perform the broker's minimum duties above and must inform the owner of any material information about the property or transaction known by the agent, including information disclosed to the agent or subagent by the buyer or buyer's agent. An owner's agent fees are not set by law and are fully negotiable.

AS AGENT FOR BUYER/TENANT: The broker becomes the buyer/tenant's agent by agreeing to represent the buyer, usually through a written representation agreement. A buyer's agent must perform the broker's minimum duties above and must inform the buyer of any material information about the property or transaction known by the agent, including information disclosed to the agent by the seller or seller's agent. A buyer/tenant's agent fees are not set by law and are fully negotiable.

AS AGENT FOR BOTH- INTERMEDIARY: To act as an intermediary between the parties the broker must first obtain the written agreement of each party to the transaction. The written agreement must state who will pay the broker and, in conspicuous bold or underlined print, set forth the broker's obligations as an intermediary. A broker who acts as an intermediary:

- Must treat all parties to the transaction impartially and fairly;
- May, with the parties' written consent, appoint a different license holder associated with the broker to each party (owner and buyer) to communicate with, provide opinions and advice to, and carry out the instructions of each party to the transaction.
- Must not, unless specifically authorized in writing to do so by the party, disclose:
 - o that the owner will accept a price less than the written asking price;
 - o that the buyer/tenant will pay a price greater than the price submitted in a written offer; and
 - o any confidential information or any other information that a party specifically instructs the broker in writing not to disclose, unless required to do so by law.

AS SUBAGENT: A license holder acts as a subagent when aiding a buyer in a transaction without an agreement to represent the buyer. A subagent can assist the buyer but does not represent the buyer and must place the interests of the owner first.

TO AVOID DISPUTES, ALL AGREEMENTS BETWEEN YOU AND A BROKER SHOULD BE IN WRITING AND CLEARLY ESTABLISH:

- The broker's duties and responsibilities to you. and your obligations under the representation agreement.
- Who will pay the broker for services provided to you. when payment will be made and how the payment will be calculated.
