Boulder, Colorado is one of Colorado’s most affluent and highly educated communities, with a population of approximately 108,000 and a median household income well above the national average. Anchored by the University of Colorado and a strong presence of technology, research, and outdoor-industry employers, Boulder benefits from a highly skilled workforce and robust daytime population. The city’s limited growth boundaries and high quality of life continue to drive strong housing demand, stable property values, and a resilient local economy—making it an attractive market for both commercial and residential investment.

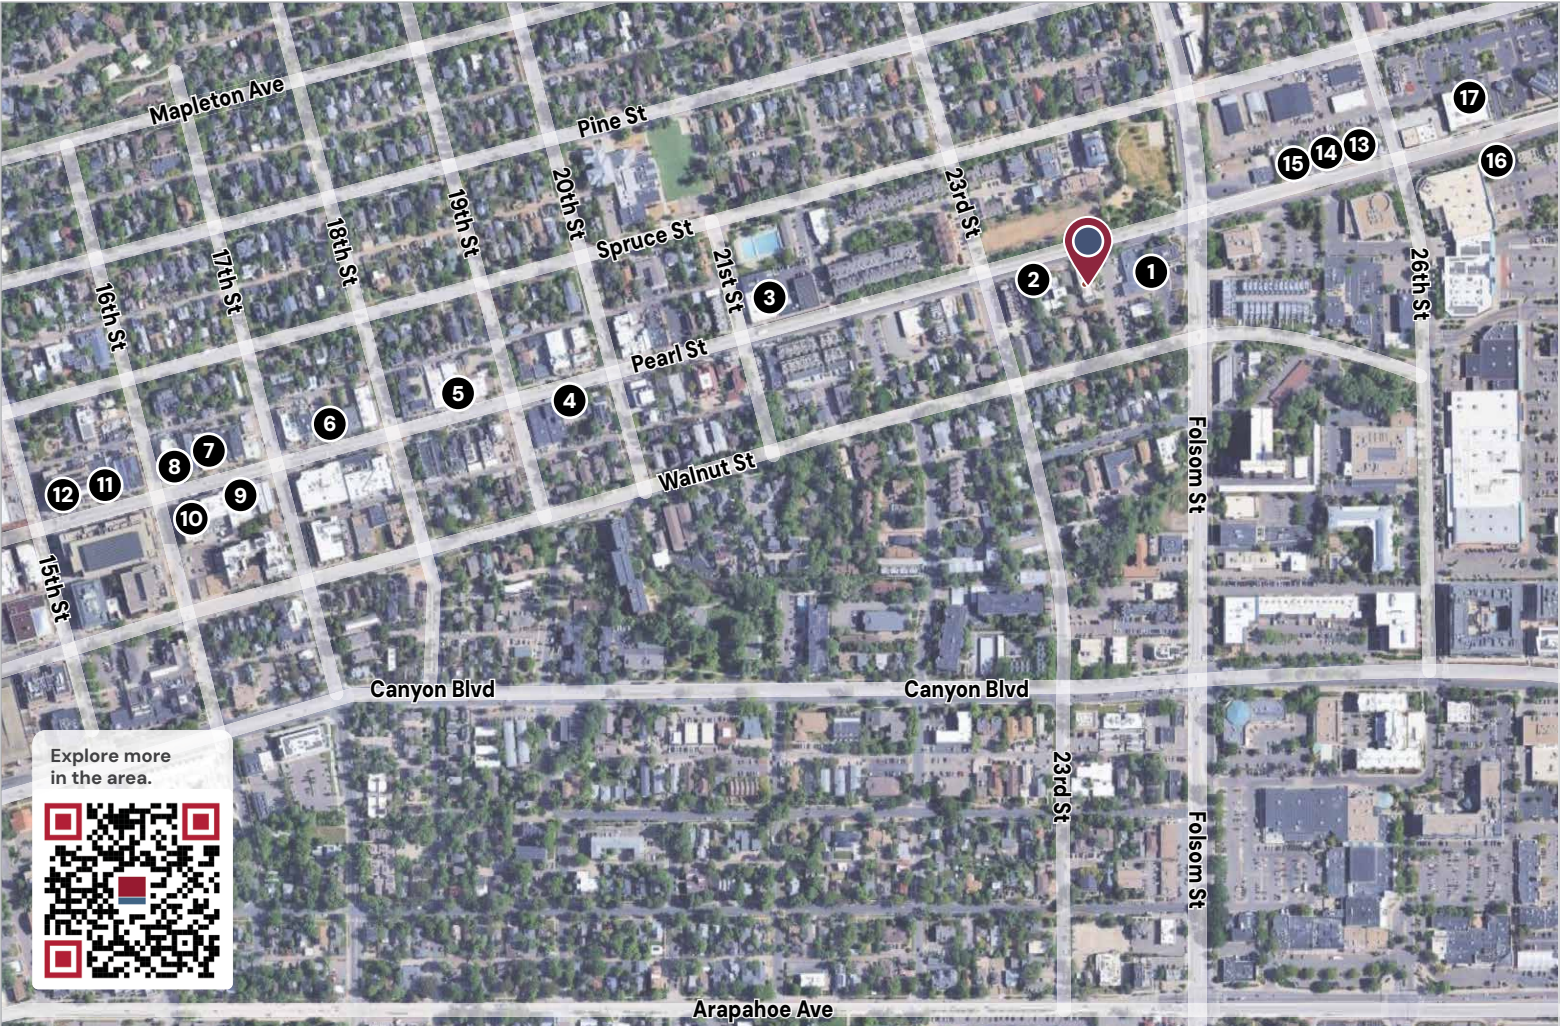

Sundance Film Festival 2027

Beginning in 2027, Boulder will host the globally recognized Sundance Film Festival, bringing significant national attention and economic activity, and citywide screenings, premieres, and activations.

- 10 Day international festival
- 100,000 + Annual Attendees
- 140+ Films/projects showcased annually
