Description

The building is a two-storey 1980's office block, which was converted from former squash courts. It is of brick construction under a largely flat roof.

The ground floor comprises a reception area and mainly open plan offices, with a glazed atrium. The first floor comprises open plan offices and breakout area.

The property benefits from raised floors, gas central heating combined with partial air-conditioning, suspended ceilings, recessed strip and spot lighting, kitchenette, and is carpeted throughout.

Location

The property is situated on the north side of the High Street, to the rear of Seaforth Lodge, a mixed commercial and residential building. The Property is accessed via the undercroft of Seaford Lodge.

Barnes is a suburban district in the London Borough of Richmond upon Thames. It is located in the north east of the borough, south of the River Thames. It is situated approximately 6 miles south-west of central London. Neighbouring areas include Hammersmith, Putney, Mortlake & Chiswick.

Barnes has two railway stations (Barnes and Barnes Bridge) and is served by bus routes towards central London and Richmond. A fast train service from either station can take between 20-26 minutes into London Waterloo. The property is closest to Barnes Bridge station, which is situated around 0.2 miles south west of the property.

There is a good provision of shopping and food venues on the High Street. Local occupiers include independent retailers as well as national companies, generally in the food-retail or dining venue sectors, with several estate agents and other independent retailers. There are a few office units, but the area is mostly residential in nature.
