ABOUT

Rafferty

Located in the heart of Downtown Santa Ana, this new mixed-use development designed by Toll Brothers and MVE + Partners, is envisioned to bring true urban living to Orange County. The project is comprised of two buildings located on the former site of the First American Title plaza and an adjacent parking lot. The architecture draws inspiration from the historic district, utilizing traditional materials in modern ways. Key features include street-level retail and sidewalk dining areas to activate the pedestrian experience, while a rooftop terrace will provide residents with a social gathering space unlike any other in the city.

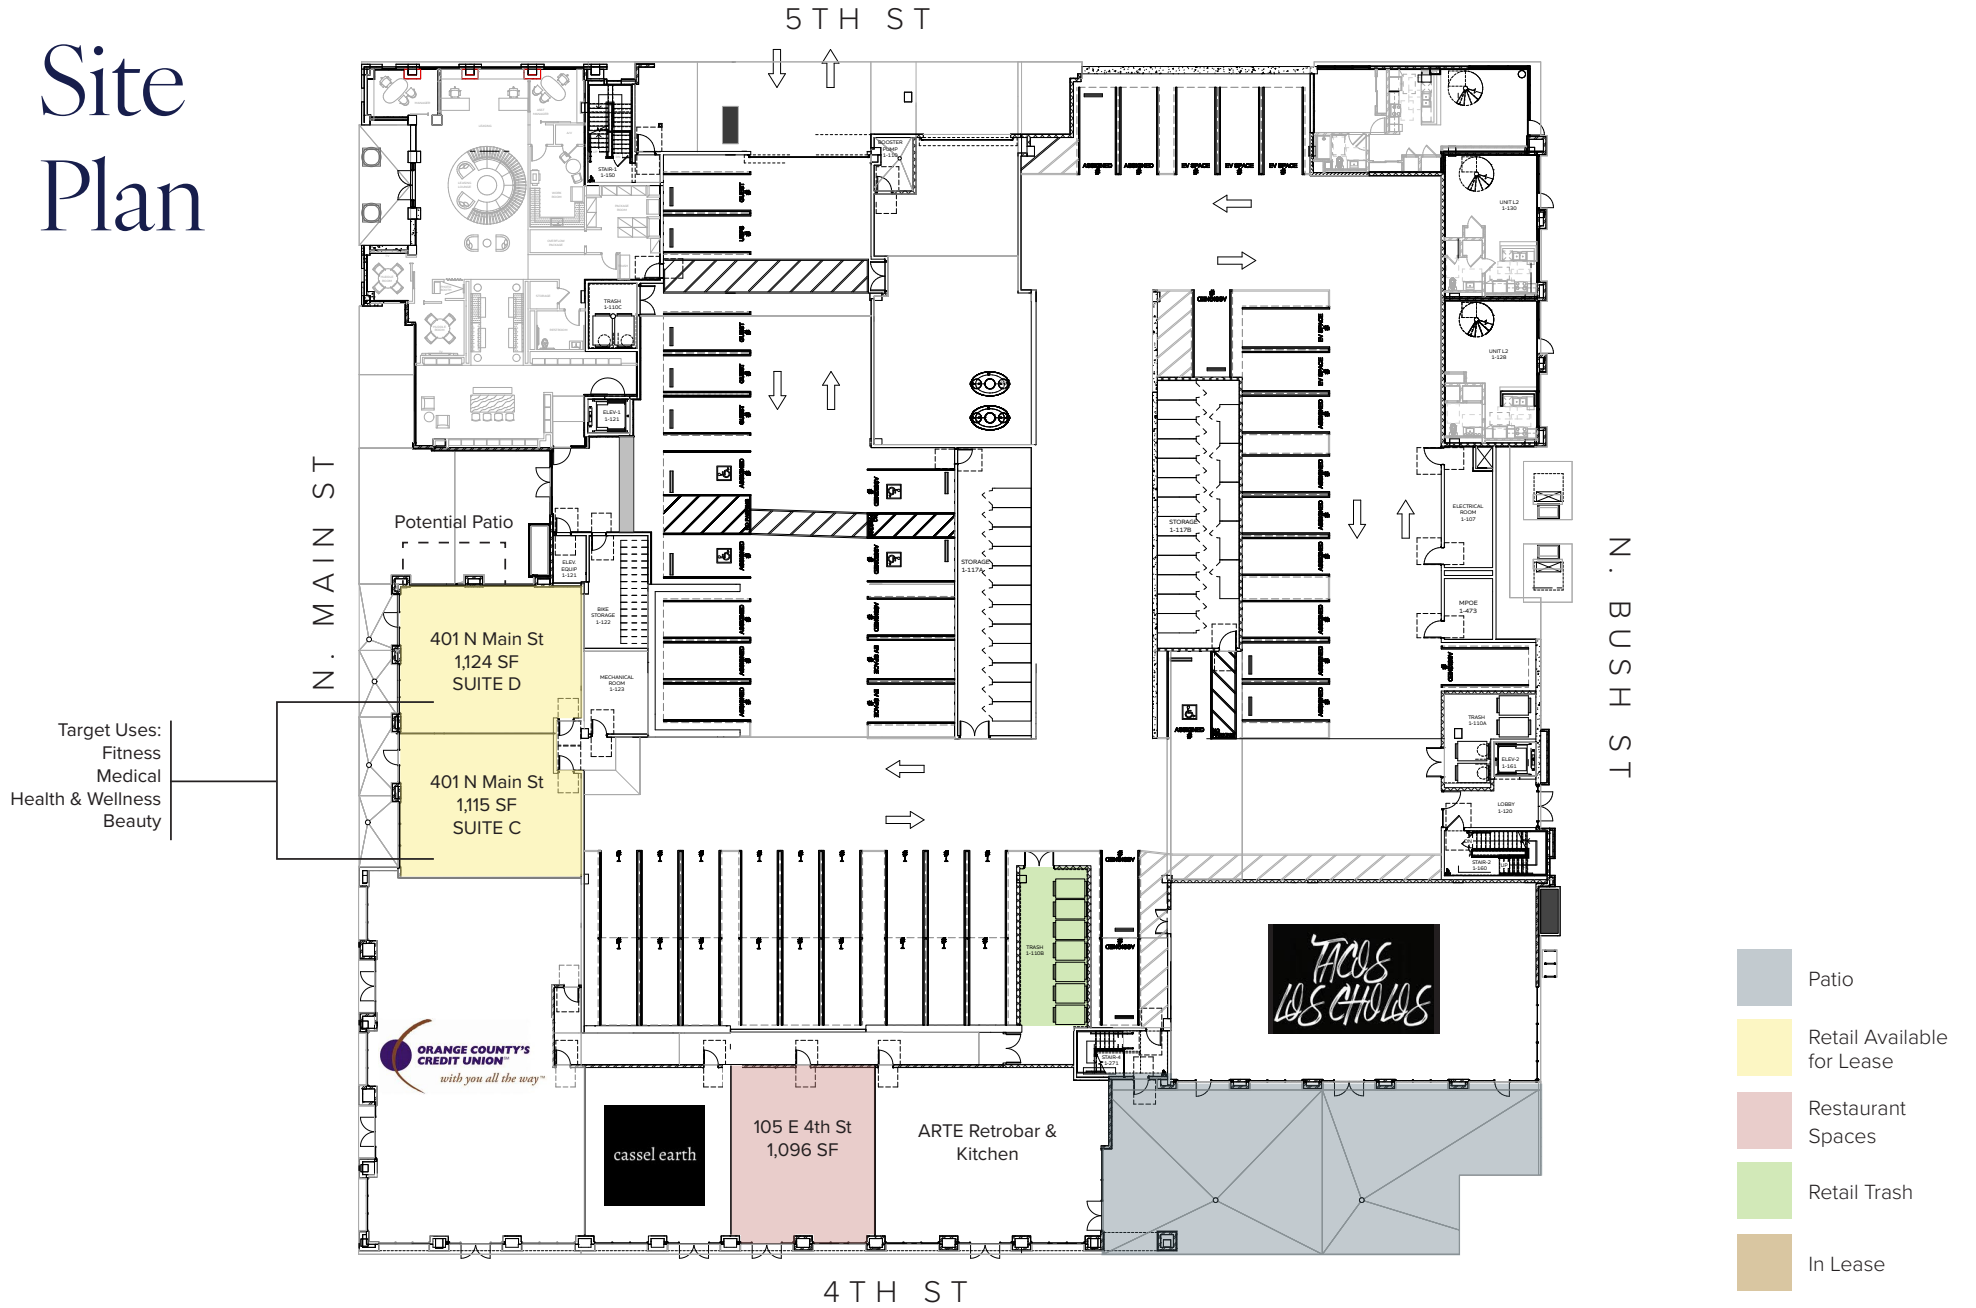

A fresh way to experience familiar stomping grounds for Orange County natives, this dynamic apartment community invites you to live boldly, in sync with the upbeat energy of the Calle Cuatro corridor. Rafferty mixes historic roots with contemporary design, downtown heritage with today's California, in a signature, expressive character that flows seamlessly from modern residences above to the open plaza and welcoming community spaces below.
