ABOUT WINGERS

Wingers is a regional sports-bar and casual dining chain. It started in 1993 in Bountiful Utah when founder Eric Slaymaker opened the first location around a signature chicken wing recipe. Over time, the brand expanded across the Intermountain West, particularly in Idaho, Utah, Nevada, and Oregon.

What They're Known For

- Chicken wings in a variety of sauces and heat levels
- “Sticky Fingers” (their boneless chicken strips/tenders)
- Burgers, tacos, salads, wraps, and other American comfort-food items
- A sports-bar atmosphere with TVs, beer, and family-friendly dining options
- House-brewed beers through their brewing operation, launched in 2010

Overall Reputation

Wingers has a loyal following in the Mountain West, particularly for its sauces, Sticky Fingers, and sports-bar atmosphere. The restaurant emphasizes a smaller lineup centered around house favorites such as Original Amazing, Thai Red Chili, Classic Buffalo, and Atomic Ghost.

Wingers locations feel like neighborhood restaurants rather than other wing chains that feel more like game-day destinations.

MOUNTAIN HOME COMMUNITY PROFILE

Mountain Home is a great place to live, work, and play.

Our thriving community, stable economy, diverse geology and population, and exceptional recreational opportunities are a few of the many things we can brag about. Our unique mix of urban and agricultural areas makes Mountain Home an excellent place to work, live, and raise a family. You will find our workforce to be highly trained and of exceptional quality.

Mountain Home Air Force Base, with approximately 4,500 assigned military personnel, provides a nearly a billion-dollar impact to the surrounding area. There are over 7,000 military retirees, age 38 and older, living throughout the area.

We have a huge, broad-based agri-business economy. In 2007, Marathon Cheese opened its new packaging facility and currently employs over 430 people. They continue to expand their Mountain Home operations and will eventually provide good jobs to nearly 500 people.

We invite you to take a look at Mountain Home. We will work diligently and efficiently with you to show you the advantages of making Mountain Home the right choice for your business.

Here is a testimonial from the Senior Vice President of Marathon Cheese about the ease of doing business with the City of Mountain Home:

“As you know, there are often differences between the courtship and actual building and expansion phase. We did not see that with Mountain Home when we decided to expand out west; the entire process went smoothly, and there was no long, drawn-out bureaucratic process. The City of Mountain Home and the State of Idaho have done everything they promised and more. We were very pleased with the entire process!”

Gary Peterson, Senior Vice President of Marathon Cheese
