Tenant Spotlight

Starbucks

Starbucks Corporation is the world’s largest coffeehouse chain, operating within the highly resilient food and beverage retail sector. With more than 38,000 locations globally, Starbucks represents a dominant, traffic-driving tenant in retail corridors, neighborhood centers, and freestanding pad and drive-thru locations.

The brand’s combination of daily-use beverages, food offerings, and a loyalty-driven customer base positions Starbucks as a habitual-use retailer with consistent, repeat consumer demand. Many locations feature drive-thru service and mobile order capability, further strengthening customer accessibility and daily traffic.

Founded in 1971, Starbucks has grown from a single Seattle coffee shop into a publicly traded, global consumer brand (NASDAQ: SBUX). The company continues to expand its footprint domestically and internationally while investing in store modernization and its Rewards loyalty program to drive frequency and customer retention.

Company Growth

Starbucks operates over 38,000 retail locations worldwide, making it the largest coffeehouse chain in the world. The company’s footprint spans urban, suburban, and highway-adjacent markets, with stores typically located along major retail corridors and high-traffic intersections.

The company continues to expand its footprint through its “Back to Starbucks” initiative, focused on improving the in-store experience, streamlining operations, and growing its 35+ million-member Rewards program to drive customer frequency and spend.

Starbucks locations are frequently positioned as long-term outparcels and pad sites within retail centers due to their brand recognition, drive-thru format, and consistent consumer demand.

Why Choose Starbucks?

For commercial real estate investors, Starbucks represents a habitual-use retailer with strong brand recognition, a global operating platform, and consistent consumer traffic driven by daily beverage and food demand. Backed by the scale and financial strength of a publicly traded, investment-grade parent company, Starbucks maintains a dominant presence in the coffeehouse sector and continues to expand its footprint, supporting long-term occupancy stability and reliable real estate performance.

MARKET OVERVIEW

The City Of Kalamazoo

Kalamazoo-Portage is a stable Southwest Michigan MSA with approximately 263,795 residents in 2025 and a broad employment base supported by education, healthcare, life sciences, medical devices, manufacturing, business services, and food and beverage processing. The market has shown modest population expansion since 2021, supporting steady consumer demand rather than speculative growth.

The Subject Property is positioned along West Main Street, one of Kalamazoo's established retail corridors, with reported traffic counts above 37,000 cars per day. Its placement within Maple Hill Pavilion adds daily convenience-oriented traffic from national retail anchors and surrounding auto, home improvement, grocery, office supply, and service tenants.

Retail demand in this corridor is supported by proximity to Downtown Kalamazoo, Western Michigan University, major healthcare campuses, and regional transportation infrastructure. Western Michigan University remains a meaningful traffic and consumer driver, with a student base of more than 17,000 and a campus located within a short drive of the site.

For a private investor, the location offers exposure to a recognizable national tenant format in a mature retail node with strong visibility, dense co-tenancy, and access to a diversified regional economy. Financial terms, lease structure, building size, site area, parking count, and rent schedule were not provided.
