THE OPPORTUNITY

OWNER-USER TAPROOM & PRODUCTION PROPERTY

63063 Layton Avenue presents a purpose-built taproom and production property in Bend, Oregon. The ±8,968 square foot Light Industrial (IL) facility sits on 0.66 acres and includes a fully improved taproom environment with roll-up doors, covered patio areas, and dedicated production buildings.

The property is currently configured for beverage manufacturing and on-site service, with infrastructure including 3-phase electrical service, trench and floor drainage, wastewater improvements, and multiple structures supporting production and storage functions. The layout provides separation between service and manufacturing operations while maintaining efficient internal flow.

Light Industrial zoning allows for a range of compatible uses including brewery, distillery, food and beverage production, specialty manufacturing, and other industrial applications. The existing improvements provide a turnkey opportunity for an owner-user seeking a fully improved industrial asset in Bend.

Brewing and restaurant equipment are available for purchase separately.

LOCATION

BEND, OREGON

With a population of 109,500 (2025), Bend serves as the economic and cultural center of Central Oregon. The city blends a growing full-time resident base with a strong tourism economy, drawing an estimated 4.5 million visitors annually.

Located along the Deschutes River at the edge of the Cascade Range, Bend offers year-round outdoor recreation and a well-established hospitality environment that supports restaurants, taprooms, and destination-oriented businesses.

CRAFT BEER DESTINATION

Central Oregon has developed one of the most recognized craft beer markets in the Pacific Northwest. Nearly one-third of Oregon's 30 largest breweries by volume are located in the region, and Bend consistently ranks among the top U.S. cities for breweries per capita. The city's strong tourism draw, outdoor lifestyle, and established tap-room culture create a knowledgeable and engaged customer base, supporting both on-site hospitality and broader distribution potential.
