MARKET OVERVIEW

Dalton, GA

- Dalton, Georgia, known as the "Carpet Capital of the World," is an industrially driven city with a significant focus on textile manufacturing.
- Primary Industry: Dalton's economy is heavily driven by the carpet and flooring manufacturing industry. Major companies like Shaw Industries, Mohawk Industries, and Engineered Floors are headquartered in Dalton, making it a global leader in carpet production. This creates a strong demand for manufacturing and logistics-related jobs.
- Dalton, Georgia, enjoys a strategic location that significantly enhances its economic appeal, particularly for manufacturing, logistics, and distribution industries.
- Proximity to Major Cities: Dalton is located about 90 miles north of Atlanta, one of the largest metropolitan areas in the southeastern U.S. This proximity gives Dalton access to a significant urban workforce, major transportation hubs, and a broad market for its manufactured goods. Dalton is only about 30 miles south of Chattanooga, Tennessee, which provides access to another thriving industrial and logistics hub. Chattanooga's inland port and distribution network support Dalton's manufacturing base.
- Interstate Access: Dalton is situated along Interstate 75, one of the major north-south highways in the United States. This highway connects Dalton to Atlanta in the south and Chattanooga to the north, facilitating efficient transport of goods to regional, national, and international markets.
