GDP. One of the largest county economies in the world

Los Angeles County is powered by a highly educated labor force, leading universities, and world-class infrastructure. Its economic base is both broad and resilient, anchored by trade and logistics through the Ports of Los Angeles and Long Beach, clean technology, advanced transportation, healthcare, higher education, and the globally dominant media and entertainment industry.

The region's favorable climate, global connectivity, and reputation as a hub of creativity and innovation continue to attract investment, business, and talent from around the world. With major upcoming catalysts—including transformative infrastructure projects and the 2028 Summer Olympic Games—Los Angeles County is positioned to remain a world-class center for commerce, culture, and real estate growth.

LONG BEACH, CA

Long Beach, California, is a vibrant coastal city situated in southeastern Los Angeles County, approximately 22 miles south of downtown Los Angeles. It spans about 50 square miles and serves as an important hub in the Gateway Cities region. The city is home to around 439,000 residents as of 2025, with a diverse population comprising White (41.6%), other races (18.1%), Asian (12.8%), African American (11.9%), and multiracial communities. The median household income is approximately $84,000, with an average per capita income of about $50,500.

With eight distinct neighborhoods, Long Beach boasts a balanced mix of residential, commercial, and recreational spaces. It hosts prominent events such as the Long Beach Grand Prix and Pride Festival. The city's diverse economy includes port operations, manufacturing, and a growing service sector. Overall, Long Beach presents a unique coastal living experience with both small-town charm and big-city conveniences.

Long Beach, CA

“Aquatics
Capital of America”

Long Beach is renowned for its extensive waterfront featuring an 8.5-mile beach, the Port of Long Beach—one of the world's busiest container ports—and major attractions like the historic RMS Queen Mary and the Aquarium of the Pacific. The city blends an urban environment with the laid-back lifestyle of a beach town, offering residents and visitors walkable neighborhoods, cultural amenities, scenic outdoor activities, and a range of shopping and dining experiences.

Local Economy

Long Beach's economic base has evolved significantly over the years, shaped by its strategic coastal location and diversified industrial landscape. Historically, the city experienced booms from oil extraction and sustained its identity as a Navy town until the base closure. The aerospace industry played a pivotal role in Long Beach's economy, anchored by Douglas Aircraft Company, later McDonnell Douglas and now part of Boeing. The company operated plants at the Long Beach Airport, producing iconic aircraft such as the DC-8, DC-9, DC-10, and MD-11. Boeing continued production locally with the Boeing 717 until 2006 and the C-17 Globemaster III airlifter plant, which is slated for closure. Despite workforce reductions, Boeing remains the city's largest private employer.

Long Beach now thrives as a hub for aerospace innovation, exemplified by companies like Virgin Orbit developing cutting-edge rocket launch technology. The local economy also benefits from the Port of Long Beach, the second busiest container port in the U.S., which supports over 50,000 jobs within the city and drives economic activity across related sectors such as logistics, warehousing, trucking, and retail. This port activity contributes roughly $9 billion in economic output locally.

Long Beach Transport Network

Long Beach benefits from a well-developed transportation network including Long Beach International Airport, the Metro A Line light rail, and an extensive bus system operated by Long Beach Transit. This robust infrastructure enhances connectivity and accessibility, making Long Beach an attractive location for commercial real estate investment by facilitating employee commutes, customer access, and efficient goods movement.

LONG BEACH TRANSIT

Long Beach Transit operates 37 bus routes and two water taxi lines, carrying around 19.1 million riders through its system in 2024, with approximately 60,400 weekday riders in 2025. Its network directly links Long Beach neighborhoods, CSULB, shopping destinations, and waterfront attractions.

LONG BEACH INTERNATIONAL AIRPORT

Long Beach Airport handled over 4.1 million passengers in 2024, ranking as California's 10th busiest airport.

METRO A LINE

The Metro A Line is the busiest light rail route in Los Angeles Metro's system, carrying over 22 million riders in 2024 and averaging nearly 69,200 weekday boardings.

Port of Los Angeles

The Port of Los Angeles, known as America's Port, is a vast seaport managed by the Los Angeles Harbor Department that spans 7,500 acres (3,000 hectares) of land and water with 43 miles (69 km) of waterfront, adjoining the neighboring Port of Long Beach. In 2025, the port handled over 10.5 million twenty-foot equivalent units (TEUs), making it one of the busiest ports in the Western Hemisphere and supporting employment for approximately 2.7 million people across the United States. It accounts for nearly 29% of the nation's total cargo volume, playing a critical role in the supply chain and economic vitality of the country.

ANDURIL CAMPUS LONG BEACH

Anduril Industries is establishing its second major Southern California campus in Long Beach, signaling a renaissance in advanced manufacturing and defense innovation. Costa Mesa-based Anduril announced late January 2026 plans for a 1.185 million sq ft facility—750,000 sq ft office and 435,000 sq ft industrial—slated to open in 2027 amid surging demand for autonomous military tech.

This joins Anduril’s national network of manufacturing sites, following its $1B Arsenal-1 facility in Ohio.

The campus will generate 5,500 direct jobs plus construction and support roles, revitalizing Long Beach’s legacy as a naval and complex aircraft hub.

Nestled in “Space Beach,” Anduril neighbors Vast Space, Coronal, Rebel Space Technologies, Orbital Operations, and Boeing, leveraging port proximity, industrial capacity, and deep aerospace talent.

Southern California’s $4.7B in 2025 aerospace/defense funding underscores the ecosystem’s dominance in software-driven defense over traditional hardware.
