LOCATION DESCRIPTION

BELLEVUE

Bellevue is a borough in Allegheny County, located along the Ohio River, adjoining Pittsburgh. The land on which the borough sits was once part of the Depreciation Lands reserved for Revolutionary War veterans. The first landowners were James Robinson and Hugh Henry Brackenridge. The borough was named in 1867 by an early resident and means “beautiful view”. It is located in the Northgate School District and has a public park, library and the Andrew Bayne Memorial Library.

ALLEGHENY COUNTY

Allegheny County is a county in the southwestern part of Pennsylvania (PA). It is the second most populous county in PA following Philadelphia County. Allegheny County was the first in PA to be given a Native American name, being named after the Allegheny River. Allegheny County was created in September of 1788 from parts of Washington and Westmoreland counties and originally extended all the way north to the shores of Lake Erie and became the “Mother County” for most of northwestern PA before the counties current borders were set. The area developed rapidly throughout the 19th century to become the center of steel production in the nation. The county is known for the three major rivers that flow through it, the Allegheny, the Monongahela, and the Ohio Rivers. Allegheny County is home to three National Sports Teams, multiple major top ten companies as well as various colleges and universities. The county consists of 4 cities, 84 boroughs and 42 townships.
