Location

Ideally positioned within the established Binley Industrial Estate, 54–56 Hotchkiss Way has excellent strategic connectivity across Coventry and the wider Midlands region.

The Estate sits just off the A46 Eastern Bypass, providing swift links to the M6, M69, M40 and M45, making it an attractive base for distribution, manufacturing and service based operations.

Coventry city centre is only a short drive away, offering a full range of amenities, and public transport connections. The area benefits from a mix of national and regional occupiers, reinforcing its reputation as one of Coventry's most reliable and sought-after commercial locations.

With outstanding road links, established infrastructure and a thriving business community, Hotchkiss Way delivers a location that supports growth, efficiency and long term operational success.

Coventry

Coventry is a city in central England. It's known for the medieval Coventry Cathedral, which was left in ruins after a WWII bombing. A 20th-century replacement, with abstract stained glass, stands beside it. The collection at the Herbert Art Gallery & Museum includes paintings of local heroine Lady Godiva. A statue of her, naked on horseback, is nearby. The 14th-century St. Mary's Guildhall has a vaulted crypt.

Population: 345,324 (2021)

Metro population: 651,600

Area: 98.54 km²

Coventry is the ninth largest city in England and the twelfth largest in the United Kingdom, with a population of 360,700 as of the mid-year population estimates, making it the second largest Local Authority in the West Midlands.

Coventry is a lively, multicultural city with a rich history embracing the old and new. Nowhere is this more evident than in the Cathedral Quarter where the modern architecture and ancient ruins of the two cathedrals dominate cobbled streets with bustling cafes, pubs and restaurants.
