WORK HARD, EAT BETTER.

Recognized as a hotbed for cultural and culinary innovation, Little Italy is a place to see and be seen. Cafe seating line the streets, old and new businesses harmoniously stand side-by-side as people (and dogs) frequent the neighborhood's restaurants, breweries / wineries, coffee shops, art galleries and piazzas.

This hard-working spirit is built into the community's foundation, strengthened by top-of-class housing, high-street retail, transit, and historic landmarks - it's no wonder today's workforce has their eyes set on Little Italy.

Anchored by dramatic ceiling heights and expansive glass, the event and conference room extends beyond its walls. With the NanoWall fully retracted, the space flows directly onto a private outdoor deck — inviting fresh air, natural light, and a dynamic indoor/outdoor atmosphere.

Cozy yet adaptable seating and an elevated bar make it equally suited for strategy sessions or celebratory evenings.

PERFORMANCE BY DESIGN

At 2100 Kettner, sustainability and operational excellence are not add-ons, they are foundational. Every material, system, and spatial decision was thoughtfully integrated to support environmental responsibility, occupant well-being, and long-term performance.

Designed to elevate both experience and efficiency, the building reflects Kilroy's commitment to forward-thinking architecture and resilient workplace environments.

Key design and sustainability features include:

- An activated open stair that promotes movement, visibility, and connection across floors
- Expansive outdoor terraces and a rooftop deck that extend the workplace into open air, maximizing natural light and coastal climate
- Seamless indoor/outdoor lobby design that enhances flow while embracing San Diego's year-round environment
- High-performance, low-iron glazing that optimizes daylight penetration while maintaining energy efficiency
- Flexible, column-efficient floor plates designed for adaptability and long-term workplace evolution
- Touchless building systems in high-traffic areas for intuitive, modern functionality
- Localized HEPA filtration and enhanced air purification systems supporting superior indoor air quality throughout common areas and vertical circulation
- Independent third-party verification by Underwriters Laboratories, affirming rigorous environmental health and operational standards prior to occupancy
