ARCHITECTURE & CRAFT

COLOMBIAN SOUL. INTERNATIONAL FINISH.

Conceived by Colombian interior designers Alex Garcia and Margot Borrero, the residence blends contemporary architecture with authentic Colombian craftsmanship. Marble imported from Florence and Venice brings a refined European counterpoint to native materials and richly textured stone.

THE INTERIORS

GRACIOUS BY DESIGN

Light-filled living and dining spaces open the home to its tropical setting. Curved forms, arched passages, stone walls and expansive glazing create a residence that feels distinctive rather than conventional.

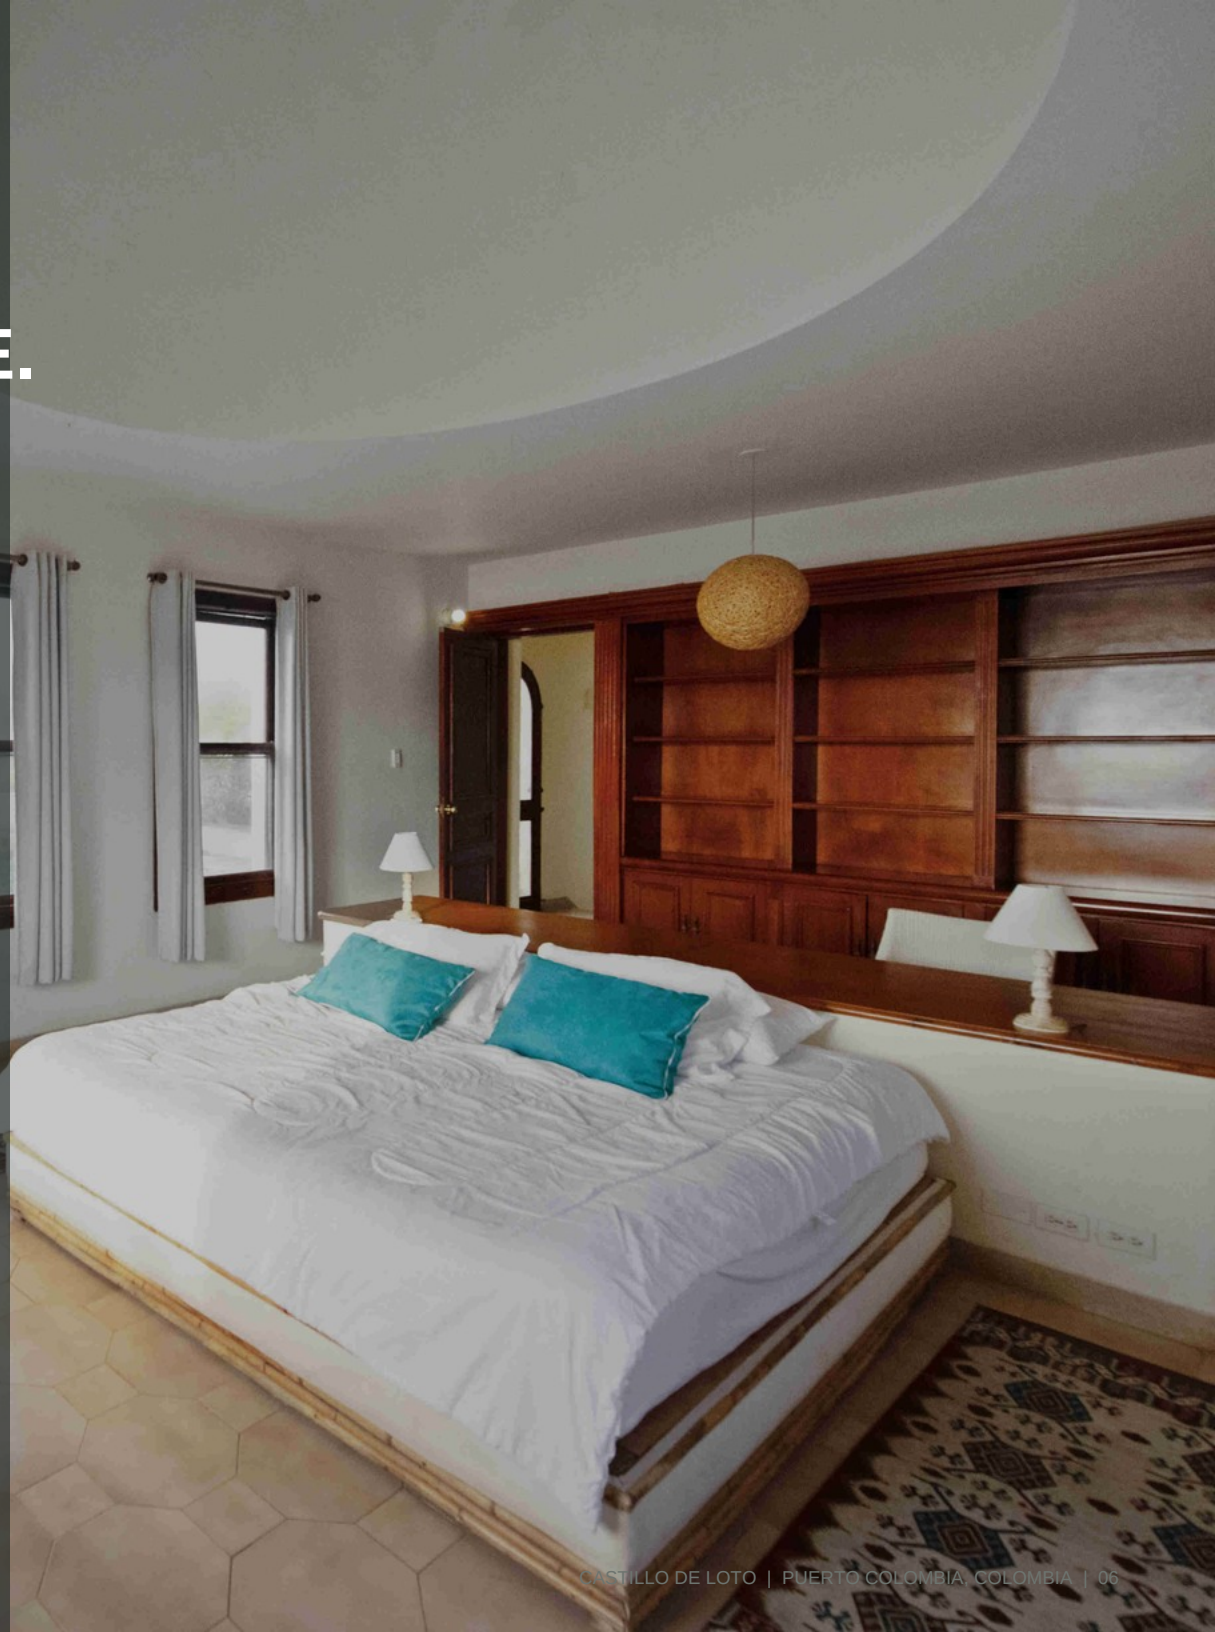

A HOME CREATED FOR BOTH PRIVATE LIFE AND GRAND ENTERTAINING.

THE OWNER'S RETREAT

AN ENTIRE FLOOR DEVOTED TO ESCAPE.

Beneath a dramatic architectural cupola, the primary suite becomes a private sanctuary with sweeping Caribbean and Pradomar cliff views. Expansive terraces invite sunrise mornings, tropical afternoons and evenings accompanied by the rhythm of the sea below.

Private. Elevated. Unrepeatable.

CURRENT USE & FUTURE VISION

A DESTINATION ALREADY IN MOTION.

Castillo de Loto is currently used for weddings and large events, taking advantage of its dramatic Caribbean setting, expansive grounds and memorable architectural spaces.

EXPANSION POSSIBILITY

The property's scale may also offer an opportunity to explore adding additional guest cabanas along the south and east walls, supporting a broader boutique-hospitality or destination-event concept.

Potential cabana development and hospitality uses are conceptual and subject to zoning, permitting, licensing and other applicable approvals.

PUERTO COLOMBIA

CONNECTED TO THE CARIBBEAN

Pradomar places the estate within the historic coastal municipality of Puerto Colombia, close to Caribbean beaches, surfing and water sports, and moments from Castillo de Salgar.

THE COAST, CLOSE AT HAND

Puerto Colombia is roughly 18 km from Barranquilla, with typical driving times of about 20-40 minutes depending on traffic. The area is known for its historic pier, Pradomar and Salgar beaches, Caribbean sunsets and Castillo de Salgar.
