commercial real estate

LOCATION. Commercial Real Estate was built on a central concept. The guiding principle was derived from a statement by Jimmy Lovine, an American record producer.

“Get in the room with the best people you can and open your heart, ears, and mind. Open up and learn. Be of service. Because if you're of service, they will teach you.”

LOCATION. Commercial Real Estate's purpose is to be of service to our clients and to create extraordinary results for retailers, developers, and owners. At every turn we strive to exceed these obligations within the ever-evolving industry.

LOCATION. is a proud member of Realty Resources, a unique alliance of independent commercial real estate brokerage firms from across the nation. Realty Resources combines leading firms from more than 25 cities around the country into one network. Additionally, LOCATION. has strategic partners in nearly all additional major markets throughout the United States.
