First Watch has demonstrated consistent unit-level sales growth and strong average unit volumes relative to the casual dining sector. The company completed its initial public offering in 2021 and continues to expand nationally through both corporate and franchise development. Revenue is driven by a breakfast-focused daypart, insulating the brand from late-night labor volatility and enhancing operating margins.

DISTANCE TO CLOSEST CITIES

CITY OVERVIEW

AS KENTUCKY'S THIRD-LARGEST CITY, BOWLING GREEN functions as the primary economic engine for the entire south-central region. The market offers a highly competitive and pro-business environment, highlighted by a cost of living that is approximately 11% below the national average. This affordability, combined with strong economic fundamentals, makes the area an attractive destination for businesses and residents alike.

ECONOMIC DRIVERS & CORE INDUSTRIES

The resilient local economy is anchored by a sophisticated and diverse blend of higher education, specialized technology, and world-class manufacturing.

- Home of the exclusive global production site for the General Motors Corvette Assembly Plant. This manufacturing legacy recently completed Envision AESC's $2 billion electric vehicle battery gigafactory, a landmark project projected to generate 2,000 new jobs and solidify the city's status as a premier destination for future-focused investment.
- The city's transition into a technology hub is evident in recent data showing that Bowling Green led the nation in tech salary growth, boasting a robust 50.7% increase over the last decade, significantly outpacing national averages.

MAJOR EMPLOYERS & INSTITUTIONAL ANCHORS

A strong and stable foundation of large employers drives consistent regional employment and population growth:

- Western Kentucky University (16,200+ students enrolled and ~1,850 employees)
- Med Center Health (3,500+ employees)
- Dart Container (~1,600+ local employees)
- Bowling Green Metalforming (~1,200+ employees)
- Fruit of the Loom World Headquarters (~900+ local employees)

STRATEGIC LOCAL TOURISM

Bowling Green's robust tourism sector provides a reliable, "recession-resistant" economic anchor for local commerce, directly fueling demand for commercial real estate in the retail, hospitality, and mixed-use sectors. The synergy between specialized attractions, corporate facilities, and natural assets creates high-density commercial development nodes.

- The Sloan Convention Center hosts over 500 events annually, with roughly 70% of business originating from outside the county. Convention attendees typically allocate 75% of their spending to lodging and food/beverage.
- The Lost River Cave (Kentucky's only underground boat tour) and proximity to Mammoth Cave National Park ensure a steady stream of "staycation" and outdoor-recreation travelers.
- The tourism boom is a precursor to permanent residency; many visitors eventually relocate to the area, fueling the 2.57% annual population growth that sustains long-term commercial values.
