LOCATION OVERVIEW

2619 Farm Road 3033 is ideally situated in Stanton, Texas, in the heart of the Permian Basin—one of the most prolific oil & gas producing regions in North America. Positioned between Midland/Odessa and Big Spring, the property benefits from immediate access to key operational hubs, labor pools, and critical infrastructure supporting upstream and midstream activity.

The site offers direct connectivity to Interstate 20, enabling efficient movement of equipment, materials, and personnel across the basin. Its proximity to Midland/Odessa—recognized as the region’s primary service and logistics center—enhances accessibility to vendors, supply chains, and field services.

Access is straightforward from both directions:

- From the East (Big Spring): I-20 West to Exit 158, north frontage road ~7.3 miles, then north (left) on Farm Rd 3033 for 4.5 miles.
- From the West (Midland/Odessa): I-20 East to Exit 165, north frontage road ~4.2 miles, then north (right) on Farm Rd 3033 for 4.5 miles.

LOCATION OVERVIEW

Located along Farm Rd 3033, a well-trafficked corridor for oilfield activity, the property is positioned to support a variety of uses, including yard operations, equipment storage, logistics staging, or service-related functions.

With its central basin location, strong transportation access, and proximity to major production areas, this site presents a compelling opportunity for operators and investors seeking strategic positioning within the Permian.
