Why commute when you've got it all right here?

Warm and welcoming, not cold and corporate, 135 Rennell Drive boasts high-quality finishes more typical of an upscale residence. With streaming natural light, open areas and a flexible floor plan, it's a perfect space for a growing company—or executives looking to be closer to home.

Working in picturesque Southport, CT, your whole day will look different. You can take a break to stroll to the waterfront, past boutique shops and stately homes. Or bring clients to fine restaurants like the Artisan at the Delamar Hotel, just a short walk away. Or get in a quick workout before or after work at Equinox right around the corner. And remember, if you have business in New York or Stamford, you're only one block from I-95 and Metro-North.

Southport's Quiet Evolution:

Southport is one of Connecticut's most desirable addresses, offering the prestige of Fairfield County's Gold Coast along with the tranquility of a small harbor village. With several new developments in progress, the village is experiencing a thoughtful upgrade and 135 Rennell Drive is right in the heart of it all.

- Walking distance to trains, Equinox and downtown Southport where the former Spic & Span Market has plans for a new general store and restaurant, reflecting a broader shift toward spaces that encourage people to linger. For those seeking the utmost convenience, there's no better location
- Nearby 250 Pequot Avenue will be home to new luxury condos
- Two nearby scenic beaches
- The Country Club of Fairfield in Southport is recognized as one of the top 100 golf courses in the world
- Within a 3 minute walk, enjoy the Artisan restaurant and Delamar Hotel which offers its guests New England charm and high-end amenities
