DEMOGRAPHIC INFORMATION

MARKET OVERVIEW

Interplaza West is positioned on W Colfax Avenue (US Highway 6), one of the Denver metro's primary east-west commercial arterials connecting the western foothills to downtown Denver. The property sits at the signalized intersection of Colfax and Corporate Drive, offering strong ingress, egress, and visibility. The broader Interplaza development sits at the confluence of three major arterials, W 6th Avenue, W Colfax Avenue, and I-70, giving the center some of the highest combined traffic exposure in the submarket.

The property is shadow-anchored by Home Depot, Kohl's, Duluth Trading Company, and CarMax, all of which generate consistent daily traffic to the immediate trade area. The strength of the corridor is reflected in the sales performance of the major retailers on-site and their continued commitment to the center through lease renewals and long-term occupancy.

Golden is a community of approximately 22,000 residents anchored by the Colorado School of Mines, Molson Coors, and the National Renewable Energy Laboratory. The city's stable employment base, historic downtown, and proximity to foothills recreation make it one of the most established communities in Jefferson County.
