A Neighborhood Transformed

“(North Park is) Pulsing with Eclectic-ricity”

New York Times

“If a new restaurant opens in San Diego, there’s a fifty-fifty chance it’s in North Park. Sixty-forty, even. Talent is concentrated here. Weird is also concentrated here.

North Park is a beautiful grab bag of tiny coffee shops and glitzy cocktail bars and mom-and-pop joints and zebra-printed hotel bars. Whole worlds exist behind unassuming doors.” San Diego Magazine

“Millennials are flocking to North Park. They are the largest group of home buyers and more than a quarter of households are between the ages of 25 and 34.”

FRONT & CENTER

“San Diego’s liveliest hipster neighborhood.”

The Los Angeles Times

“North Park’s been billed as the heir to the city’s central food nerve for a long, long time. After a decade of revitalization, it’s finally happening. From Tribute Pizza and Finca to Mabel’s Gone Fishing, Happy Medium, and Saigon Coffee, something delicious awaits every few feet.

The simmer is now a boil.”

San Diego Magazine (Best Restaurants edition)

“As much a place for families as it is for singles, this neighborhood offers an eclectic mix of restaurants, coffee houses, boutiques, and bars. North Park is north of Balboa Park and centered on the brewery-studded intersection of University Avenue and 30th Street. Also known for its culinary scene, the area presents dining options like Mabel’s Gone Fishing for Iberian-inspired dishes, The Smoking Goat, a French mainstay, and City Tacos, serving arguably some of San Diego’s tastiest tacos.”
