SHORT NORTH: COLUMBUS' HUB OF COMMERCE AND CULTURE

The Short North offers one of the Midwest's most unique environments in which to work, live and play. Simply put, the Short North is the place to be in Central Ohio. Numerous art galleries, specialty shops, restaurants, pubs and coffee houses – and monthly “Gallery Hops” – draw thousands of visitors to the area, located just north of the Downtown core and adjacent to the city's convention center and bustling Arena District.

“A VIBRANT, INDEPENDENT ARTS ENCLAVE,” IS “CHALLENGING ALL
PRECONCEIVED NOTIONS
OF WHAT PASSES FOR COOL
IN THE MIDWEST.”

- NEW YORK TIMES

CAPITALIZE ON SHORT NORTH'S VIBRANCY

The Short North Arts District in Columbus, Ohio, has emerged as one of the city's most vibrant and sought-after neighborhoods, making it an ideal location for a retail storefront business. This bustling area, known as the "art and soul of Columbus," has transformed from its industrial roots into a thriving cultural hub that attracts locals and visitors alike.

One of the primary reasons the Short North is excellent for retail businesses is its robust foot traffic and diverse customer base. The neighborhood is home to a mix of young professionals, artists, and families, creating a dynamic community with varied interests and purchasing power. Additionally, the area's popularity as a destination for shopping, dining, and entertainment ensures a steady stream of potential customers throughout the year.

The Short North's reputation as an arts district adds to its appeal for retail businesses. The neighborhood is dotted with galleries, public art installations, and creative spaces, fostering an atmosphere of creativity and innovation. This artistic environment can be particularly beneficial for unique or niche retail concepts, as customers in the area tend to appreciate one-of-a-kind offerings and local craftsmanship.
