DESCRIPTION OF PREMISES

This extremely well maintained three story office building currently has a variety of available small offices that are well suited to accommodate an array of small businesses. The building, which has previously served primarily psychotherapists and has an efficient mix of single room offices with both private and shared waiting rooms, is well poised to host any smaller office users. Attorneys, health practitioners, and other small businesses with between one and three employees will find the convenient on-site parking, elevator-served second and third floors, and attractive wood shingled exterior the perfect environment to work in. This is a great opportunity for remote workers to get out of the house and rent a nice small office at an affordable rate.
