MICRON

Conveniently located just 20 minutes from the future Micron semiconductor campus in Clay, this property offers exceptional access to one of the largest economic development projects in U.S. history. Micron is investing up to $100 billion over the next two decades to build a state-of-the-art chip manufacturing facility, with the first phase alone representing a $10 billion investment.

The project is expected to create nearly 50,000 jobs and transform the Syracuse region into a major hub for semiconductor production. As the area prepares for rapid growth—including plans for over 2,000 new homes annually to support the expanding workforce—this location offers a unique opportunity to be near the center of a rapidly developing economic corridor.
