LAKEWAY - SPICEWOOD, TEXAS

Located in the scenic Texas Hill Country on the south shore of Lake Travis, the Lakeway & Spicewood Communities sit about 25 miles northwest of downtown Austin blending relaxed resort-style living with easy access to urban amenities.

Lakeway is known for its prestigious, growth-managed community, drawing families, active professionals, and empty-nesters who value quality of life, outdoor recreation, and a strong sense of community. With a population that has steadily increased over the past two decades, the city continues to mature as one of the Austin area's most desirable small cities.

Residents enjoy a true lakeside lifestyle highlighted by marinas, golf courses, parks, trails, and abundant water activities on Lake Travis. From boating and fishing to hiking, tennis, and community events, the area supports an active, outdoor-oriented way of life.

The local population skews toward established households with a median age in the 40-50 range and a higher median income than statewide averages, reflecting its appeal to both affluent families and professionals.

The community is served by the Lake Travis Independent School District (LTISD), a highly sought-after district noted for academic excellence and extracurricular opportunities, a major draw for families relocating to the area.

Lakeway has transformed from a retirement and second-home enclave into a vibrant family-friendly city, with expanding commercial corridors, quality residential developments, and continued interest from buyers seeking both full-time residency and vacation-lifestyle living. Spicewood continues its population growth with several notable new housing communities under construction.
