Building Plot, Rossal Steading
Rossal, Rogart, Sutherland, IV28 3UD

DESCRIPTION

The plot extends to approximately 0.27 acres and includes a solid stone steading with approximate internal area of 115m², built around 1887. The majority of the plot is flat with a small sloping area below the steading building. The steading benefits from a good level of natural light all year round and stunning views to the surrounding farm and moorland.

Access to the plot is via a single-track bridge over the river Fleet and along track towards the owners house which is beyond the plot.

LOCATION

The Rossal Steading is situated between Pittentrail and Lairg on the A839 within the community of Rogart with a population of circa 400. The local village of Pittentrail has a train station, convenience store, Inn and a car garage including fuel pumps. Primary schooling is available in Rogart, a couple of miles away, and secondary schooling in Golspie some 8 miles away. The renowned North Coast 500 route has certainly invigorated tourism in this part of the Highlands and, although being less 10 minutes off the main route, the area has enjoyed significantly increased levels of trade in recent years. Tain is the main centre of population locally with a good range of shops and services.

The area has long been a Mecca for the field sports enthusiast and with an abundance of lochs and rivers providing excellent salmon and trout fishing as well as shooting on the estates. As for tourist attractions, there are many places of interest to visit. A day trip to Orkney is within easy reach, as are numerous sites of archaeological interest. Dunrobin Castle (Golspie) and the Glenmorangie Distillery (Tain) are also within a short drive. Excellent golf courses at Dornoch, Brora and Tain provide a test to golfers of all abilities. The area has a large number of golden sandy beaches plus a great many other visitor attractions. Golspie is the home of the most northern UK outdoor karting track. It has a great reputation, with some junior drivers making it onto the big stage of F1.
