Commerical/Residential San Pedro, CA

Historical Property in Downtown San Pedro

A rare opportunity to step into San Pedro's rich harbor heritage with this distinctive brick constructed mixed-use property, ideally positioned in the heart of the Downtown Business, Arts & Cultural District. Built in 1913, this property offers just over 7,800 sf of adaptable interior space and sits on a 4,800 sf (approx) corner lot. This property seamlessly blends historic character with compelling income and value-add potential. Located just blocks from the transformative West Harbor waterfront development, Cabrillo Marina, and the vibrant dining, retail, and gallery scene along 6th & 7th Street, this property offers a strategic location for investors, owner-users, and creative businesses seeking a presence in one of the South Bay's most dynamic and promising coastal communities. Property highlights include two spacious street-level retail spaces strategically facing 7th St. The large, open basement area, which has a dedicated side entrance facing Centre St, creates an opportunity for additional income potential with some creativity. The upper level residential space features a total of 22 doors, including an on-site manager's suite with 2 beds, a full bath, and a kitchen. All other rooms include a sink with shared community kitchen, bath, and shower areas. This building is an efficiently run cash cow that includes a long-term cell tower lease with a carrier that currently pays over $2,000/mo in stable, hassle free income. With easy access to major freeways and the broader Los Angeles and South Bay markets, this unique opportunity provides an attractive platform for businesses, residents, and investors seeking proximity to the harbor and the region's major employment and cultural centers.

Area Overview

San Pedro, CA

San Pedro is a vibrant coastal community at the southern edge of Los Angeles, known for its rich maritime history, diverse culture, and scenic ocean views. With a blend of working-port heritage and an emerging arts and dining scene, the area offers everything from historic sites like the Battleship Iowa and waterfront parks to local shops, galleries, and community events that reflect its welcoming, laid-back spirit. San Pedro is also experiencing thoughtful growth, with major developments such as West Harbor bringing new waterfront dining, entertainment, and public space; AltaSea at the Port of Los Angeles, fostering ocean science, education, and innovation; new commercial properties; and a range of multifamily residential projects that are expanding housing options while strengthening the local economy and community. Together, these elements make San Pedro an appealing and dynamic place to live, work, and visit.

West Harbor

West Harbor is a 42-acre waterfront redevelopment in San Pedro, California, transforming the former Ports O' Call Village into a vibrant, walkable destination along the Los Angeles Waterfront. The project features a mile-long promenade, public docks, and hundreds of thousands of square feet dedicated to dining, retail, and entertainment. Planned and opening tenants include waterfront restaurants, breweries, the San Pedro Fish Market, harbor cruises, bike rentals, and immersive attractions. Future phases will add major draws such as a Ferris wheel, family-friendly amusement elements, and a proposed 6,200-seat open-air amphitheater. Designed to expand public access and celebrate the working harbor, West Harbor aims to become a signature destination for locals and visitors alike.
