Investment Highlights

Cushman & Wakefield is pleased to present the opportunity to acquire 3033 Moorpark Avenue, San Jose, California, an owner-user or investment opportunity in one of Silicon Valley's most desirable sub-markets. The property consists of a two-story office building totaling ±14,062 square feet, situated on a generous ±0.78 acre parcel. The asset benefits from exceptional proximity to premier retail, dining, and lifestyle amenities, including walking-distance access to Santana Row and Westfield Valley Fair, close proximity to Valley Medical Center, and San Jose City College as well as immediate connectivity via Interstate 280. The Property is 54.4% leased to professional services and medical-related tenants, and the remaining shorter-term leases offer investors significant upside through lease-up, rent increases and repositioning strategies. Alternatively, an owner-user could occupy more than 50% of the building within one year, which is attractive in this high barrier-to-entry location.

Area Overview

SILICON VALLEY

A key component of the Bay Area economy, Silicon Valley is the world's undisputed high-tech capital, blazing the trail for innovation in today's global marketplace. Industry leaders in semiconductor design and manufacturing, network equipment, high-tech manufacturing equipment, software design, information systems, life sciences, clean tech and digital media call Silicon Valley home. The region draws its vitality not only from innovative new businesses, but also from the intense competition among its diverse array of existing companies. The Silicon Valley metro area ranks #3 in the world and #1 in the United States for GDP per capita. The region has one of the highest percentages of college educated adults in the country and continues to be a magnet for leading researchers and entrepreneurs. The combination of the world's leading research and educational institutions, San Francisco's world-class financial base, the region's well established business creation infrastructure and a geographic position which fosters fluid interaction with China and other Pacific Rim economies will ensure that Silicon Valley remains a leader in economic growth for decades to come.

THE MARKET

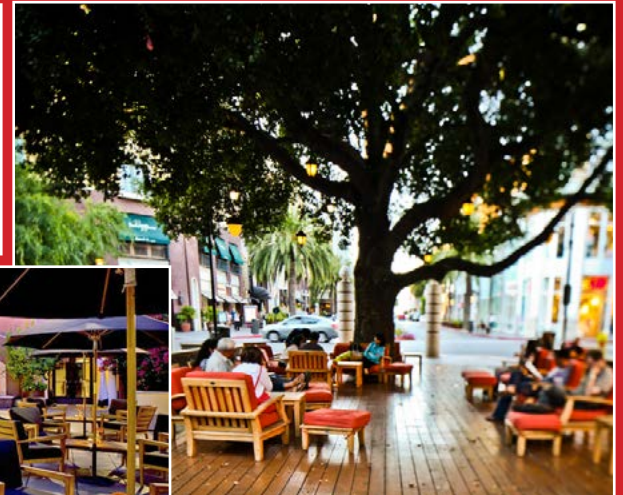

Silicon Valley is home to the largest concentration of technology expertise in the world with more than 6,600 technology companies, employing more than 350,000 people. These companies include:
