Location | Nicollet Reopening

The corridor is entering a generational transformation. A short distance south, the City of Minneapolis is advancing the New Nicollet Redevelopment — reopening Nicollet Avenue across Lake Street, where a Kmart severed the street for nearly 50 years. With the reconnected roadway and Midtown Greenway bridge targeted to reopen to traffic by the end of 2026.

Nicollet will once again run uninterrupted from Nicollet Mall through Eat Street to south Minneapolis, restoring the most direct artery between downtown and the neighborhoods that have been cut off from this corridor for decades.

Development Characteristics

- 500-600 rental housing units, with a mix of market rate and subsidized affordable housing
- Limited retail uses concentrated at the corner of Lake Street & Nicollet
- 10,000-15,000 square feet of indoor community uses (MPRB recreation space and community-serving nonprofit(s))
- A 20,000-30,000 square foot full-service grocery store at the corner of Lake Street & Nicollet Avenue
- 20-25 affordable ownership townhomes
- Enhanced public realm featuring interconnected gathering places

This development concept is an example of how the site might develop. The actual development scale, pattern, and layout will vary.

Location | Distinguished Neighbors

A few blocks east, 2429 Nicollet neighbors one of the region's premier cultural campuses: the Minneapolis Institute of Art (Mia), a free, top ten U.S. art museum; the Minneapolis College of Art and Design (MCAD), with roughly 800 students; and the Children's Theatre Company, the largest children's theatre in North America. Together they draw students, faculty, and families year-round, feeding foot traffic to Eat Street and reinforcing the neighborhood's creative, amenity-rich identity.
