The purpose of the MF-1 Multiple-Family Medium Density District is to provide for medium density family residential areas with adequate open areas where it is desirable to encourage such type of development. Because of the higher than average concentrations of persons and vehicles, this district is situated where it can properly be served by public and commercial services and have convenient access to thoroughfares and collector streets. Site area requirements reflect the relative need for open space of the various types of residences based on expected density of use.

PRINCIPLE USES CAN INCLUDE:

- Multiple-family dwellings
- Residential treatment and care facilities
- Public and private utility rights-of-way
- Churches
- Hospitals, clinics, governmental buildings, and private clubhouses
- Professional services, such as medical, dental, legal, and engineering, excluding the storage and parking of heavy equipment
- Hotels, motels, condos, bed and breakfasts, and tourist

DADE CITY

Located in the rolling hills of eastern Pasco County, Dade City typifies what many people think of as “old” or “historic” Florida by virtue of its physical features, its pioneer heritage, and the spirit of its residents. Established in 1889, Dade City is the county seat of Pasco County, and also serves as a commercial center for an area encompassing more than 71,000 residents. Dade City is naturally what many master-planned communities strive to re-create. From its historic downtown core to its vibrant business community, Dade City offers what you’d expect to find in municipalities three times its size. From state-of-the-art health care facilities to award winning golf and country club communities to turn-of-the-century homes, Dade City is a unique blend of old and new, of the trendy and timeless, of the nostalgic and the next big thing.

LIFE IN DADE CITY

Two excellent educational institutions, St. Leo University and Pasco-Hernando State College, are located in the Greater Dade City area, as is the Dade City Heritage Museum, Pioneer Florida Museum, the Dade City Symphony, and other arts and cultural nonprofits. Additionally, Dade City plays host each year to a large number of popular annual events, including the Kumquat Festival, Florida’s Bug Jam, Red Bull’s Day in the Dirt Down South, PCRA Sanctioned Rodeos, Church Street Christmas and the Christmas Stroll.

ECONOMY

Dade City’s local economy has historically been tied to agriculture, centered primarily on citrus and cattle production. Over time, employment has shifted more to service, government and retail jobs, many of which are clustered around Dade City’s central core. Dade City is home to one of only two Smart Start business incubators in Pasco County, and one of the largest office and industrial complexes in East Pasco, the 290+–acre Dade City Business Center. A wide variety of industries are represented in Dade City, from agriculture to manufacturing, health care to construction.
