Location

Glenrothes, a town of c.50,000 residents, is located approximately 22 miles to the south of Dundee and 15 miles east of Dunfermline, and benefits from excellent communication links.

Newark Place is located within Eastfield Industrial Estate, one of the most established commercial centres within the town and situated adjacent to the Bankhead roundabout providing direct access to the A92 dual carriageway, the principal arterial route through central Fife between Dundee and the M90, thereafter providing linking to the Queensferry Crossing and wider Scottish motorway network.

Eastfield now provides a mixed-use environment, with a variety of occupiers including light industrial, retail and leisure operators.

Description

The property is a standalone industrial unit with dedicated car parking and a large secure yard to the rear. The unit is of steel frame construction, with brick/block elevations under a multi-pitched roof of insulated cladding. Natural light is provided by translucent panels.

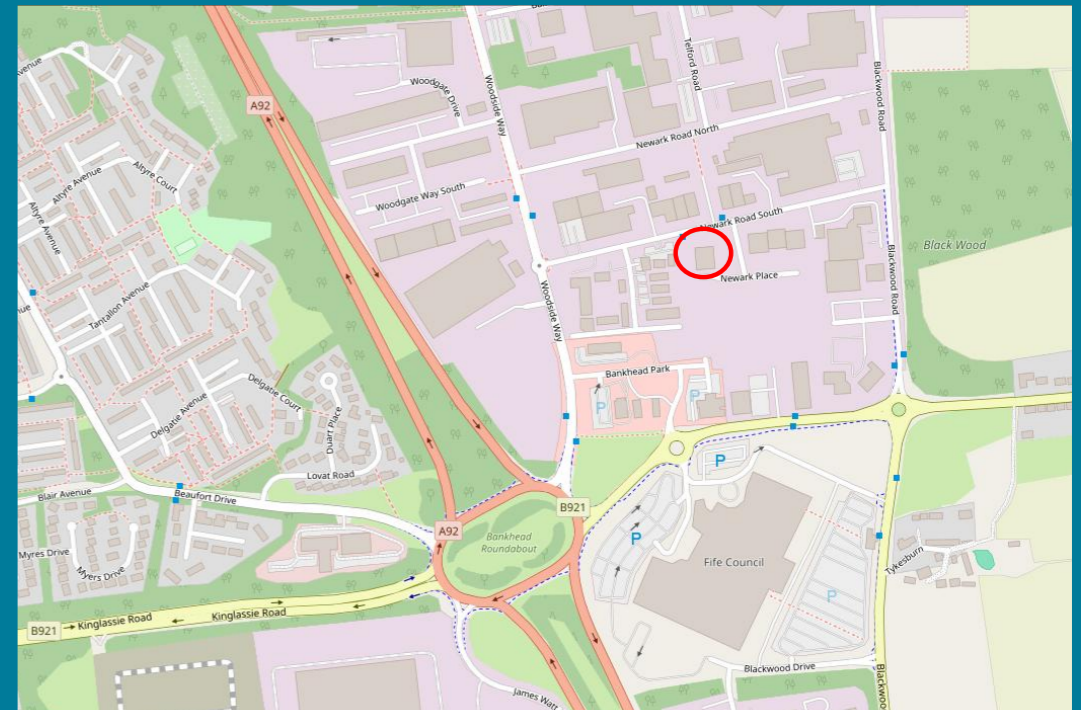

Internally, the unit provides a large production/storage space with concrete flooring, gas fired air blower heating, 5m electrically operated roller shutter door and 3-phase power. Ancillary space is presently used for a retail area and small workshop however this can be returned to office space. Refurbishment works are planned prior to a new tenant taking occupation.

This unit has previously had Class 11 consent and may be suitable for alternate use, subject to obtaining the appropriate planning consents.
