NORTH LOOP REIMAGINED

The removal of the downtown North Loop has been identified as a Catalytic Project in the Imagine Downtown KC 2030 Strategic Plan. The North Loop is a stretch of Interstate 70 that forms a barrier between the River Market and the Central Business District. Removing or minimizing the physical barriers creates opportunities to improve vehicular, pedestrian, bicycle, and transit connections, as well as provide cohesive connections to the River Market.

IMAGINE DOWNTOWN KC 2030 CATALYTIC PROJECTS:

THE 800 GRAND PROPOSED 25-STORY HIGH-RISE

BR Companies, a Los Angeles-based real estate development and construction firm, announced plans for 800 Grand, a signature 25-story mixed-use tower set to reshape the north end of Downtown Kansas City's urban core. The $250 million project is designed by award-winning architectural firm Hoefler Welker and will introduce a vibrant new residential and retail destination at the southwest corner of Eighth Street and Grand Boulevard. 800 Grand will rise approximately 385 feet and deliver more than 300 modern residential units alongside approximately 24,000 square feet of ground-floor retail and restaurant space. The design also includes structured parking to support residents, visitors, and local businesses.

ARNOLD DEVELOPMENT PROPOSED 27-STORY TOWER

Arnold Development Group has filed preliminary plans with the City of Kansas City to build a 289-foot tall mixed-use tower as part of a broader redevelopment effort at the intersection of 9th Street and Central Boulevard in Downtown Kansas City. The project envisions a 27-story high-rise containing roughly 695 residential units, along with ground-floor retail space and amenity areas, replacing existing surface parking and complementing nearby historic office building refurbishments. The tower would form the centerpiece of a four-property development that also includes rehabilitating the adjacent Poindexter and Centennial buildings into additional housing and commercial space, bringing nearly 700 total apartments and expanded downtown urban living options. Design concepts blend modern materials with warehouse-style elements to fit within the city's historic context.

KANSAS CITY ROYALS BALLPARK DISTRICT DEVELOPMENT

The Kansas City Royals, in partnership with Hallmark Cards, have announced plans for a transformative $3 billion stadium and mixed-use district in Kansas City's Crown Center, marking it as one of the most significant urban redevelopment projects in the region's history. Spanning approximately 85 acres, the development will bring a new level of density, connectivity, and year-round energy to the urban core.

Anchored by a $1.9 billion, state-of-the-art stadium, the broader master plan will introduce a dynamic mix of restaurants, retail, hospitality, office, and residential uses, creating a walkable, high-density environment designed to generate consistent activity well beyond game days and establish Crown Center as a true destination. With a targeted 2027 groundbreaking, the new Royals stadium and ballpark district represents a generational investment in Kansas City and the continued evolution of its urban core.
