Scout Cold Logistics is a real estate investment and development firm dedicated to temperature-controlled infrastructure. The company invests in grocery distribution, food production, and non-food perishable facilities throughout the United States.

Scout has successfully developed millions of square feet of tri-temperature warehousing across the country, representing billions of dollars in investments.

Our team possesses extensive expertise in development and maintains strong relationships with architects, engineers, and other industry experts. We are committed to delivering projects on time and within budget. Total investments exceed $1.6 billion and 10 million square feet of industrial and temperature-controlled warehouses, globally.
