The Charleston–North Charleston MSA is one of the fastest-growing markets in the Southeast, driven by strong population growth, a diversified economy, and sustained consumer demand. The region is anchored by aerospace, advanced manufacturing, port logistics, healthcare, and tourism, with major employers including Boeing, Volvo Cars, Mercedes-Benz Vans, and MUSC. Retail fundamentals remain strong, supported by high occupancy levels, limited new supply, and rising replacement costs. Ongoing residential growth and in-migration continue to drive demand for necessity-based and quick-service retail. With high barriers to entry and a business-friendly environment, Charleston offers investors long-term stability, consistent cash flow, and durable retail performance.

When Chipotle opened its first store in 1993, the idea was simple: demonstrate that food served fast didn't have to be a "fast-food" experience. Chipotle uses high-quality raw ingredients, classic cooking methods and distinctive interior design--features that are more frequently found in the world of fine dining. When the company was founded in 1993, there wasn't an industry category to describe their philosophy. Some 20 years and more than 3,700 restaurants later, Chipotle competes in a category of dining now called "fast-casual," the fastest growing segment of the restaurant industry, where customers expect food quality that's more in line with full-service restaurants, coupled with the speed and convenience of fast food.
