Camp Davis was built in 1940 by the United States Army, originally as an anti aircraft artillery training facility. It was expansive, including two runways and more than 3,000 buildings on 45,538 acres.

At its height, the base was home to over 20,000 soldiers. Women Airforce Service Pilots also served at Camp Davis beginning in the Summer of 1943.

While the camp was dismantled by 1948, it still remains an important part of the history of Onslow County and the Town of Holly Ridge today.

Holly Ridge, once home to just 28 people and a train station, has grown immensely since the early 1940's. Since 2020, Holly Ridge has grown over 15% and has become the second fastest growing town in North Carolina. According to census numbers, Holly Ridge has even surpassed Surf City's population. As growth and change takes place here, the home appreciation has also gone up over 18% in just the past year.

With this newfound growth, the town is slated to bring in a UPS distribution center this year. The addition of this new facility will create 98 well-paying jobs and more than $12.3 million in investments.

CAMP DAVIS PHASE 3

Camp Davis Industrial Park

Camp Davis Phase 3 along with project AJAX will bring approximately 70 light industrial units, over 200 residential units in both Onslow and Pender Counties and increase revenue by 2027. Driven by multiple new housing developments, the Town of Holly Ridge is experiencing natural population growth of 5-7% annually.

Holly Ridge is one of the country's fastest-growing municipalities, encompassing more than four square miles supported by approximately 14 miles of streets. Positioned in Onslow County, it is ranked as the 10th most affordable county in North Carolina.
