CHARLESTON MULTI-FAMILY INVESTMENT

OVERVIEW

112 Rutledge Avenue is a beautifully renovated mixed-use investment opportunity located in the heart of Charleston's historic Harleston Village — one of the city's most desirable and walkable neighborhoods.

Originally built in 1925 and thoughtfully renovated in 2019, the property blends classic Charleston character with modern updates, improved building systems, and flexible income-producing space.

The ground-floor medical office is secured by a long-term lease through December 2029, providing stable and reliable cash flow. Above, the second and third floors feature three residential units totaling nine bedrooms and four bathrooms, including one recently renovated unit that is currently available.

The property also includes ten dedicated parking spaces — a rare downtown amenity — allocated to both the medical tenant and residential units.

Agent Richard Morse is the owner of the property.
