AREA OVERVIEW

San Bernardino, widely known as the “Inland Empire,” is a vibrant city located in Southern California. With a rich history, diverse culture, and a myriad of attractions, San Bernardino has something to offer for everyone. Whether you’re a history buff, an outdoor enthusiast, or a foodie, this city has it all.

From its humble beginnings as a small settlement along the Old Spanish Trail, San Bernardino has grown into a bustling metropolis. With a population of over 200,000, it is the 17th largest city in California, and is known for its scenic beauty, picturesque mountains, and year-round warm weather.

San Bernardino was also a major center for Southern California citrus farming. Since 1911, the city has celebrated its agricultural heritage during the National Orange Show, a festival with carnival rides, citrus-themed exhibits, and live entertainment. The event takes place at the National Orange Show Events Center, which also hosts a weekly swap meet that showcases more than 200 vendors.
