ABOUT CROSSTOWN

Crosstown Concourse is one of Memphis' most ambitious and transformative redevelopment projects. Originally built in 1927 as a Sears, Roebuck & Co. distribution center and retail store, the massive 1.5 million-square-foot building sat vacant for decades before being reimagined into a vibrant vertical urban village. Today, Crosstown Concourse is a thriving hub of activity, blending residential apartments, restaurants, healthcare clinics, retail shops, art galleries, performance spaces, and educational institutions under one roof. Its striking art deco architecture, combined with modern renovations, makes it a symbol of community revitalization and creativity in Memphis.

At the heart of Crosstown Concourse's mission is a focus on collaboration and connectivity. The building is home to a diverse mix of tenants, including nonprofits, artists, entrepreneurs, and healthcare providers, all working together to foster a culture of innovation and wellness. With amenities like the Crosstown Theater, the Church Health Center, and multiple dining options, the Concourse offers a unique live-work-play environment that has become a model for urban renewal nationwide. Its dynamic atmosphere and strong community-driven spirit continue to make it one of the most exciting destinations in Memphis.
